

Name: _____

Can you use your graph to work out the answers to these questions?

How many children would prefer potatoes?

How many children chose broccoli?

How many children would prefer carrots?

If you counted all the children who chose broccoli and all the children who chose peas, how many children would there be altogether?

